

ceeded in enlisting and expediting to their respective regiments 500 first-class recruits. They are now receiving thirty to forty recruits per day, but their funds are exhausted, and unless the public of New-York come promptly to their aid with liberal contributions, they will feel reluctantly compelled to cease their labors, which have thus far been eminently successful. The Executive Committee will make one more personal effort with the public of New-York, in the hope that a prompt and liberal response may prevent the breaking up of an organization which is effecting so much of practical good for the cause of the Union.

CONVALESCENTS AND RECRUITS EN ROUTE.

For New-Hampshire regiments now in the field, one hundred soldiers, discharged convalescent from the Portsmouth (N. H.) Hospital, arrived here yesterday morning. Also, twenty-two recruits from New-Haven for Connecticut regiments. After receiving the hospitalities of the Park Barrack, they proceed onward to the seat of war.

SECOND REGIMENT "IRISH LEGION."

Capt. JOHN CONNERY, who has seen service, in command of a company in the Twelfth Pennsylvania, is now raising a company for the Second Regiment of the Irish Legion, (Gen. CORCORAN'S OWN.) In ten days he has recruited 65 first-class men, and expects to have his full number in a week more. The regiment will be a splendid one, and Capt. CONNERY means his company to be the best in it.

THE SICKLES BRIGADE.

Yesterday afternoon over 300 recruits for this Brigade paraded through the City. The men made a fine appearance in their new and handsome chasseur uniform. Half of them, intended for the Third Excelsior (Col. NELSON TAYLOR'S) Regiment, were sent off by the New-Jersey Central Railroad in the evening. The rest will most likely go to-day.

THE GROCERS' REGIMENT.

The Committee appointed by the leading grocers of this city to raise funds for the purpose of encouraging enlistments into some special regiment, acknowledge the receipt of the following contributions:

Havermeyer, Townsend & Co.....	250	Falle, Williams & Co.....	250
Peter Moller.....	50	Garbutt, Black & Hendricks.....	250
Francis Skiddy.....	250	Stinson, Labagh & Farington.....	250
Collins Raymer & Co.....	250	Skeel & Reynolds.....	250
McKenzie Beatty & Co.....	250	Meed, Lacey & Co.....	250
Arularius, Bonnett & Co.....	250	Sherman, Taliman & Co.....	250
E. & R. Mead, Jr. & Co.....	250	Stanton, Sheldon & Co.....	250
Cobb, March & Gross.....	250	Wylie & Knevals.....	250
Sturges & Co.....	250	Geo. W. Lane & Co.....	250
Habeck & Co.....	250	J. B.....	100
Henry Swift & Co.....	250	H. K. Bull.....	100
Cary & Co.....	250	Plume & Lamont.....	250

Beebe & Brother.....	250	Jas. Cassidy & Co.....	100
C. Burkhalter & Co.....	250
John L. Hasbrouck & Son.....	250	Total.....	$7,000

With such a fund as this at their disposal the grocers will have no difficulty in raising a body of men of which the trade may well be proud. The sum of $8,000, already subscribed, at once furnishes an extra bounty of $10 to 800 men.

GEN. MEAGHER'S IRISH BRIGADE.

Col. NUGENT, Maj. THOS. O'NEILL and other officers of this gallant command, left this City for Washington on Wednesday evening, where they will join a detachment of recruits sent on under command of Lieut. McDONOUGH, Sixty-third Regiment, and proceed to their brigade now in the van of McCLELLAN'S army. Capts. HOGAN and LEBBY have charge of the recruiting in this City, and judging from their incessant labors, will be successful in their mission. Capt. HOGAN went last evening to Tuckahoe, where he was invited to address a mass meeting called to procure recruits for Gen. MEAGHER'S command. Capt. HOGAN hoped to bring back with him a hundred "strapping young lads," who, with some fifty other recruits now awaiting transportation, will be sent off this evening or Saturday morning to the brigade. All recruits belonging to it now in New-York are ordered to report at No. 398 Broadway this morning, at 9 o'clock, when State and City bounties will be paid.

SABRE PRESENTATION.

Last evening, at the Stevens House, on Broadway, a sabre, pair of pistols, sash and belt, were presented to Capt. FREEMAN ORNE, of Scots 900 United States Cavalry, commanded by Col. SWAIN. The presentation was made on behalf of the officers, non-commissioned officers of the regiment, the men under Capt. ORNE'S command, and his friends. Speeches of the most enthusiastic nature were made, and the whole affair passed off most pleasantly.

THE FAMOUS LINDSEY BLUES.

One of our best independent military organizations, have unanimously concluded to volunteer for the war. They have opened a battalion recruiting station at No. 60 Division-street, under charge of Capt. JOHN B. FOKER, and volunteers are rapidly pouring in. The battalion will be attached to one of the Metropolitan Police Regiments, and of course the great advantages the connection affords in the way of bounties and support of families of the volunteers are thus secured by the Lindsey Blues. The business arrangement of the battalion are in the hands of Lieut.-Col. JOHN WILSEY.

Military Movements in the City.

THE SECOND "METROPOLITAN"—FLAG PRESENTATION.

Yesterday, at its camp on Staten Island, was mustered into the service of the United States the Second Regiment of the Metropolitan Brigade. The occasion was celebrated by the presentation to the regiment of a magnificent stand of colors, given by certain citizens of New-York, through Capt. MOUNT, of the Third Precinct Police. There are, as usual, four flags in the "stand" altogether—a handsome regimental flag, a National flag, and two guineas, BALL, Black & Co. were the manufacturers. Speeches was made by the presenter and the Colonel, and the ceremonies were enlivened by music from Dodworth's Band. The Second "Metropolitans" are numbered One Hundred and Thirty-third New-York Volunteers. They are commanded by Col. CURRIE, and muster nearly 300 men. All are uniformed, and most of them armed and equipped, and every member of the regiment is anxious to exchange the monotony of the camp for the excitement of the battlefield.

THE STANTON LEGION.

The difficulties in the way of the payment of the bounties of the men of the Stanton Legion have all been satisfactorily removed, and the soldiers will be paid off to-day, commencing at 10 o'clock this morning. The regiment will get off this week, and families of men should visit them to-day if they wish to receive portions of the bounty from them.

A TROOP OF INDEPENDENT CAVALRY.

Lieut. GILBERT E. OVERTON, who served with distinction in the Fourth New-York Cavalry during nearly the whole campaign in Virginia, proposes to organize a troop of independent cavalry, for service on the borders, if permission can be obtained from Gov. OLDEN, of New-Jersey, in which State the organization will be made. Such troops are needed.

EIGHTEENTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT.

The artillery regiments being raised in the Eighteenth Senatorial District of this State have had their organization changed into battalions. Each battalion is to consist of four 6-gun batteries, of 150 men each. The four battalions will, therefore, number 2,400 men, with sixteen batteries—ninety-six in all. Ten companies are now full, and waiting for marching orders.

BOUNTY FUND FOR GERMAN REGIMENTS.

The Executive Committee, appointed by the meeting of German citizens, held at the Astor House, Aug. 24, for the purpose of raising a Bounty Fund for the encouragement of recruiting the old German Regiments now in the field, and particularly those under the command of the gallant Gen. STAUD, have 500-
